Description: During the week-long (Monday-Friday) summer camp, campers will participate in indoor and outdoor activities while learning how archaeologists use skeletal remains to uncover the past. Discover the field of bioarchaeology while being introduced to cultural traditions all over the world. Explore topics like: mummies, vampire archaeology, DNA extraction, and more with the archaeologists at UTSA’s Center for Archaeological Research! Camp is located on UTSA’s 1604 campus. Each day of camp is packed with presentations, hands-on activities, and imaginative crafts, so campers have fun while they’re learning!
